“ Paul you were the best person I've ever known. You were always extra tough on me and I never understood why. Now I see what you did that for. To be able to handle this situation at hand it's gonna take the toughest of all men. To keep My chin high at the toughest of times. And make sure the rest of the family keeps high hopes and never put their heads down. You did a great job raising a son to be tough just like you were. I love you pops forever and always.

Your son, Nicholas
